Continuation of 13. Other: Applicant asserts the argument that Hotti fails to disclose limitation of applying both the schema associated with a content node and the schema associated with its parent hierarchy node to a content node. The Examiner respectfully disagrees. It is noted that Hotti discloses an invention wherein a schema is associated with a configuration management master. Additionally, it is noted that the schema of said configuration management master is conveyed onto the replicas of the configuration management master (i.e. children nodes). Accordingly, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art that the schema associated with a parent content node is indeed applied to a child content node such that Hottie would indeed read upon the claimed invention.
